Terms and Conditions

As someone taking part in an event organised by Marie Curie, you agree to the following terms and conditions:

Safety, fitness and injury

- Before registering for this event, please make sure you feel able to take part health-wise; we recommend checking in with a doctor if you're not certain. If you have any medical conditions that might affect your taking part, or if something crops up after you've signed up, let the event organisers know so they can find the best way to assist you.

  Please note under the conditions of entry you warrant to the organisers that you are sufficiently fit and healthy to participate in the event unaided. So do not participate if you are feeling unwell on the day or in any doubt.

- You acknowledge and understand that the event may be potentially hazardous and that participation in any event is at your own risk. Your safety is of absolute importance to us. Make sure you follow all safety instructions and training procedures when taking part in events.

- Marie Curie, its employees, agents and volunteers accept no liability in connection with your participation in the event or for those attending and cheering you on, when it comes to any loss or damage of any kind, including consequential loss caused by or connected with your participation in the event. This excludes any liability for death or personal injury caused by our negligence or the negligence or our employees, agents and volunteers, fraud, or any other liability that cannot be excluded by law. Something else to bear in mind is that we can't accept responsibility for any damage, injury or loss that might occur through your own negligence.

Please be sure to read carefully any terms and conditions issued by the venue and make sure to abide by all the advice and regulations to ensure you enjoy a safe and fun event. Please note that if you do not obey the terms of entry set by Marie Curie, Run Your Mind and the venue, or follow their instructions on the day, you can be ejected from the event, and we accept no liability if that occurs.
